AMMC AUXILIARY HOSTS LUNCHEON

First Meeting of Auxiliary's New Operational Year. A Call for New Members, Volunteers

WHO: Arkansas Methodist Medical Center Auxiliary

WHAT: AMMC's Auxiliary is hosting a luncheon in conjunction with the first meeting of its new year to recruit new members to serve as volunteers throughout the medical center. The luncheon is free to the public for those persons who may be interested in the Auxiliary's volunteer service mission.

The Auxiliary urges community-mined residents to come have lunch and see how volunteering their time in service to others can make a real and lasting difference.

WHEN: Noon, September 15, 2008

WHERE: Arkansas Methodist Medical Center Auditorium
900 W. Kingshighway, Paragould

WHY: Members of the AMMC Auxiliary provide vital volunteer support to the medical center's "It's all about you," standard of quality, compassionate care by: greeting guests at the information desk; assisting with patient care on the nursing floors; staffing the medical center's gift shop; helping celebrate staff and holiday recognition days; and raising funds for needed equipment.

A recognized leader, Arkansas Methodist Medical Center in Paragould provides compassionate healthcare to residents throughout Northeast Arkansas and Southeast Missouri. Additional information about AMMC is available at: www.arkansasmethodist.org.
